

I am opposed to any consolidation or merger of the media. The concentration of media in the hands of one company is a threat to our freedom which is especially important today.